Rafaela Lobato, doing business as Cabana Azul (appellant), appeals from a decision of the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control¹ which revoked her on-sale beer and wine public premises license for various violations of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act, including participation in a profit-sharing scheme of drink solicitation, the purchase of alcoholic beverages from an unlicensed seller, possession of distilled liquor on the licensed premises, and not having been the true owner of the licensed premises, all being contrary to the universal and generic public welfare and morals provisions of the California Constitution, article XX, §22, arising from violations of Business and Professions Code §24200.5; 25657, subdivision (a); 23402; 25607; 23300; and 23335.

Appearances on appeal include appellant Rafaela Lobato and the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, appearing through its counsel, Thomas Allen.

FACTS AND PROCEDURAL HISTORY

Appellant's on-sale beer and wine public premises license was issued on May 26, 1994. Thereafter, the Department instituted an accusation against appellant charging various violations of the Alcoholic Beverage Control Act.

An administrative hearing was held on December 18, 1997, at which time oral and documentary evidence was received. At that hearing, testimony was presented by witnesses for the Department of Alcoholic Beverage Control, in support of the charges of the accusation, and by witnesses on behalf of appellant, in her defense.

Subsequent to the hearing, the Department issued its decision which found the violations set forth above, and appellant filed a timely notice of appeal.

Written notice of the opportunity to file briefs in support of the appellant's position was given on October 8, 1998. Appellant's brief was originally due November 1, 1998. Her time was extended to December 1, 1998, but no brief has been received. Appellant was also notified of the date this matter would be heard.

We have reviewed the notice of appeal and have found insufficient assistance in that document which would aid in review.

The Appeals Board is not required to make an independent search of the record for error not pointed out by appellant. It was the duty of appellant to show to the Appeals Board that the claimed error existed. Without such assistance by appellant, the Appeals Board may deem the general contentions waived or abandoned. (Horowitz v. Noble (1978) 79 Cal.App.3d 120, 139 [144 Cal.Rptr. 710] and Sutter v. Gamel (1962) 210 Cal.App.2d 529, 531 [26 Cal.Rptr. 880, 881].)

We have reviewed the record and have found no reason why the decision of the Department should be overturned.

ORDER

The decision of the Department is affirmed.²
